DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-8, drawn to a method of managing resources in of a histological tissue processor.

Group II, claims 17 and 76, drawn to a method of scheduling tissue processing protocols of a histological tissue processor.

Group III, claim(s) 18, 19, 62 and 63, drawn to a method of managing thermal resources of a histological tissue processor.

Group IV, claim(s) 64-70, 77 and 78, drawn to a method of controlling heaters of a selected component of a histological tissue processor.

Group V, claim(s) 71-73, drawn to a method of accelerating the processing of a histological tissue processor.

Group VI, claim(s) 74 and 75, drawn to a method of managing purity of reagent resources.

Group VII, claim(s) 9-16, drawn to a method of managing resources in of a histological tissue processor.

2. The inventions listed as Group I; and Groups II-VII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The step of determining and assigning availability of resources by nominating the resources in Group I is lacking from Groups II-VII.

3. The inventions listed as Group II; and Groups I and III-VII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The step of determining priority of protocols in Group II is lacking from Groups I and III-VII.
4. The inventions listed as Group III; and Groups I, II and IV-VII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The step of delegating system heating power in Group III is lacking from Groups I, II and IV-VII.
5. The inventions listed as Group IV; and Groups I-III and V-VII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The step of selecting a predetermined control algorithm in Group IV is lacking from Groups I-III and V-VII.
6. The inventions listed as Group V; and Groups I-IV and VI-VII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Maintaining the temperature of at least one heater at or above a desired operating temperature of the selected component until the first temperature sensor senses the desired operating temperature in Group V is lacking from Groups I-IV and VI-VII.
7. The inventions listed as Group VI; and Groups I-V and VII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The step of determining purity of a reagent by estimating a carry over volume of the reagent in Group IV is lacking from Groups I-V and VII.
8. The inventions listed as Group VII; and Groups I-VI do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The step of selecting resources by selecting an available resource in accordance with a predetermined selection criteria wherein the predetermined selection criteria is based on the determined status of the tissue processing protocol step and the determined resource characteristic in Group VII is lacking from Groups I-VI.

9. A telephone call was made to Mr. Brain Hannon on 3/17/2010 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

10. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
